Our History

Several years ago, God called Pastor Cedrick Brown from a homogeneous way of doing life in the city of Compton, California to an obscure unfamiliar place in Pullman, Washington. This was the beginning of a life changing journey that continues today.

Pastor Cedrick's journey from Compton to Pullman to the present has been the tool the Lord has used to temper his heart and leadership to remain committed to loving God, loving neighbors, and making disciples of Christ from all nations.

This formed passion was truly the inspiration to plant Commitment Church, and it remains the motivation for us to exist as a place for all nations. At Commitment Church, we love all nations, and we desire to live before God and love others in a way that we represent heaven on earth.
